Trebling the four soldiers crept across the landing towards the transforming door. Silently they stared at the door in horror. Determined the four children moved on. First was Benjamin smallest however he had made up of courage. He had golden blond hair glittering in the light, Bright blue eyes. Behind him was Jared taller but less Courage, dark brown hair as dark as the night sky, hazle eyes. After him was Casey dark hair bright highlights (red). The last person was Elanise red hair dark green eyes her hair lit up the room.

In an instant Casey swung round and looked at Jared and whispered, "Do we have to do it now", Jared ~~nodded~~ Casey mumbled, "Yes were going home tomorrow just open the door come on", There was no chance for the others to scold, in fact, ~~neither~~ neither of them would dare face the increasingly confident Casey. The idea was in place. The four heroic children remembered what they had to accomplish. Not everyone was entirely sure that they actually wanted to do it, will they be successful?

Hearts pounding as fast as a bull chasing the red blanket the warrior walked into hades gate. It took a brief second or two for their eyes to adjust to the moons glittering the room like as if it was covered in stardust. The demon's bed lay in front of them as high as mount everest on a cold winters cave. The blood hovering beast lay inside the diamond encrusted coffin. His skin as pale as a ghost. In a black blazer made his body dissipate. Benjamin torch flickered on and off their shadows scattered across the room as if they were alive. It was bigger than they expected but even more terrifying than they thought.

All of a sudden Casey raised her stake and aimed it at the black hearted beast without warning Benjamin's torch flickered on and off over the death bed just then Elanise held the cross above the white vampire, recorted that if he awoke it would be cornered. Everything was going the way they wanted to in a blink of an eye the vampire rose from the coffin and turned his head toward the group. They pushed the vampire back into the box of doom the vampire eyes shield as the four sprung into action. Firstly case jabbed the demon then Elaine pressed the cross onto his face. Gasey stroke again the vampire crying pressing their ears. Finally, the vampire, The vampire dead!
